In Memory of Russell Tidball 1981- 1997

Russell was born on May 28, 1981, twin brother to Michael. At the time of his birth it was determined that he suffered from a heart defect for which he underwent various surgical procedures over the years. Russell had always wanted to play hockey, but due to his heart condition, he was unable to do so until he was nine years of age. At that time he commenced playing in BLOMHA at the House League Level and thoroughly enjoyed every minute. He always wanted to be a goal tender and received medical clearance to do so.

In November 1994 Russell once again underwent heart surgery. However, as a result of the surgery he sustained severe brain damage which resulted in his hospitalization in various rehabilitation facilities until the month of November 1995. As a result of his brain damage Russell was dealt numerous cognitive deficits and an inability to verbally communicate. In addition his motor skills were somewhat diminished. While relearning his life skills Russell had two main goals; one was to go to high school and the second was to play hockey again.

When Russell was released from the hospital he returned home. Thanks to the preparation and consideration of many fine people he was able to attend high school with his brother and friends and to play hockey once again with Burlington Lions Optimist Minor Hockey Association with his brother.

Russell loved playing hockey, although his abilities were not what they had been previously the coaches, players and other members of the league were constantly encouraging him.

At the conclusion of the 1995-1996 Russell was thrilled and honoured to receive the Neale Pyefinch Award for the most improved player in the Bantam Division. Russell treasured this trophy as it was the highlight of his hockey career.

Russell continued with his education at Notre Dame High School in Burlington and in September 1997 he received the award for the student achieving the highest marks in Grade 10 English. Unfortunately on December 29, 1997 he succumbed to a fatal heart attack.

The two most important outside factors in Russell's life were hockey and education. Russell was an average hockey player who loved to play the game.

The Russell Tidball Memorial Scholarship will hopefully help other individuals who share Russell's two loves, hockey and education.
